Two pairs of shimano SPD-R road pedals. Ultegra. These are used items - I ran these in the "early noughties" and they have been in my box of useful bike bits for the past decade or so. They weigh in at 338g a pair, use metal cleats and are more compact than the SPD-SL's which followed and are still currently made. This listing is for both pairs together but I will split fyou only want one pair. Not compatible with SPD-SL.
