A friend of mine has just relocated his 34ft Beneteau and now has mooring equipment which he no longer needs.

It was laid about six years ago and was checked every year until 2013. I organised the purchase and was told its suitable for a much larger boat.

New, everything cost £1200 but he's now asking £850 ono.

The buyer would need to arrange collection as it's currently in the water at Gillingham, Kent, UK.

I've attached some pictures including detailed diagrams from the man who sold and laid it. Please contact me for further.
