Taiho-Jutsu is the Japanese police martial art. It is still used to this day by many law enforcement and military organizations as their hands on arresting art. West Midlands Taiho-Jutsu offers civilians and security staff the chance to learn this martial art once only taught to serving officers and military. With its varied locks and throws as well as ground control and striking it is a proven MMA used daily around the world. "Let the situation dictate the tactics". Also within the classes we can teach Certificated Physical Intervention as approved by the SIA and NHS protect, Advanced physical intervention and handcuffing all to accredited and certified levels for Door supervisors and also Static Guards wishing to upskill in a relaxed friendly environment. We have classes in North Birmingham (Erdington) and South Birmingham (Kings Norton) Classes for Juniors within the Junior Taiho-Jutsu gang from 5-15 and Adults from 16yrs. ;
