Roselands Infant School is now a part of the Roselands-Stafford Federation, but began its journey nearly 64 years ago, opening its doors to pupils in September 1952. This year the school will be celebrating 60 years of the official opening by HRH Princess Alexandra of Kent in June 1956. To commemorate this the children will be taking part in various activities throughout the week beginning 11th July. On the evening of the 14th July the school would like to invite any past staff or pupils to come and join them to share their memories of their time at the school, in the hall, where light refreshments will be available. An exhibition of Roselands journey will be on display. If you are unable to join them but have any memories, or photographs to share, the school would like you to send them in, as it is hoped to compile a book of Roselands memories for future pupils and staff to look at. If you send a photo please put the date on the back. These can either be posted to Roselands School, Woodgate Road, Eastbourne, BN22 8PD, or e-mailed to click to contact. The school look forward to meeting you. If you are able to attend please confirm this to the school at either of the above mentioned.
