I have four proven stud boys. They are all excellent quality boys. My youngest boy, who is has had three trouble free litters so far and is a black and sable lad with heaps of personality and weighs 2kg. My other young boy is a very handsome black and tan, also with a fantastic character, weighs just under 2kg and has been responsible for two super litters. My third stud is also a young lad and has had one litter so far and is a stunning boy but is rather gentle and not as experienced as my other boys. He weighs just under 2kg. Lastly my most experienced boy who, although 11 years old, has a long work record of producing many absolutely fantastic puppies over his many years and his work definitely keeps him young. One of his wives has just had four beautiful babies. He has weighed between 1.4kg and 1.55kg - his heaviest ever - throughout his life. He has a super pedigree, is very friendly - to people as well as his young ladies All the boys are fully vaccinated, micro-chipped, have excellent pedigrees and are Kennel Club registered. All matings consist of 2 matings, one day apart and if no pregnancy, then a free second mating six months later - so far, this has not been required by.
