A friend of mine died & I have been tasked with clearing his things. I am putting any items I find that are too good to throw away on here, to help recover costs of clearing his place. This was on his bathroom wall full of medicines (given back to boots). Its a nice cabinet, has shelves both inside & on the door. He had it a while so it has scratches around it, but its still in good condition. It has only 1 key (only one I could find) but you can take it & get another cut if you wanted one. Approx sizes 18"h x 14"w x 6" deep (including door) It can be put up either way, depending on which way you wish door to open. ;
