Hi,

This a ultra reliable and practical 2011 Yamaha 125 X city big wheel scooter, Just serviced and MOT'd, 3 former keepers and with its current elderly owner for only 18 months, and only selling dew to ill health.

I am selling on Clive's behalf as he does not have internet, ask me any questions as i have the bike in my garage or if you like I will put Clive's number up also so you can speak to him direct.

I have ridden this on a couple of occasions and found it starts on the button first time every time and in all weathers it rides superb, the brakes are amazing and it will accelerate as fast as most cars away from the lights, I have been told it is cheap to run and cheap to insure.

More information:

This scooter gives about 80mpg from it's quiet fuel injected 124cc single cylinder 4 stroke engine, electric start fully automatic and will pull 2 people happily with luggage.

There is space under the seat for a bag of shopping or a crash helmet, it also has a removable double top box which has space for 2 crash helmets as well space for small items in the lockable 'glove box' in the leg shields plus a carrying hook so you can carry bags on the floor .

It has anti theft steering lock and factory fit immobilizer and this is important it comes with 3 sets of keys including the oh so important red key and one key fits all locks.

The seat is opened remotely with the key in the ignition so you can lock things underneath safely, very comfortable to ride and has its original luggage rack and tool kit also so the owners manual service book is included and i plan to do a full service in the next few weeks.

The scooter is a absolute beauty and

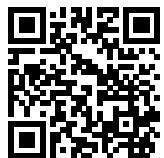

It does not look like it has been crashed but some panels are scratched so maby in its past it got knocked over, please examine the pictures closely to see the extent of the scratches.

What the reviewers say
 With its compact dimensions, the modern design language and low fuel consumption, the Yamaha X-City is a commuter's dream.

The scooter is packed with a pair of pretty big wheels which offer great low speed maneuverability and keep the high speed ride as comfortable as possible.

In terms of style the Yamaha X-City 125 features a stylish front design with a height-adjustable windscreen and twin headlights. You also get a pretty comfortable seat and an ergonomically designed handlebar.

At the heart of the X-City 125 is a 125 cc fuel-injected engine that churns enough output to make riding around town a breeze. Complementing the engine are dependable front and rear disc brakes.

The bike is also fitted with plenty of storage spaces which include two practical compartments and a generous under-seat console.

Taking the advantage from Yamaha's know-how in the world of scooters, the high-fashion, high-wheel X-City 125 is the kind of ride that won't leave you.
