I'm regretfully selling my seat exeo TDI, this car has been problem free since buying it and runs like clockwork, I'm getting at least 50+ miles per gallon and it's a very comfy car, for those who know , the engine in the exeo is from an audi a4 and the interior from an audi cabrio so there is some pretty good equipment and its very reliable. I have just had the mot and it comes with no advisories. the front brakes , pads and discs were replaced about three months ago and it has 4 new goodyear eagle F1 tyres and a 1 spare. I will miss this car loads but a change of career is on the horizon so I need the extra money.
