Tired of spending hours trying to figure out how to manage your site? Wish you had a "web guy" on staff but can't justify a full or part time employee? We've got you covered! Have you ever had to read a book, article, brochure over and over again? Well, you know it soon results in apathy, boredom and disinterest. Soon you will have to abandon the info-material. That is exactly what happens when visitors come to your website a few times and the content is the same. It becomes boring, counter productive and they never return. You loose a customer and all the potential referrals. Then there is the embarrassment of your website suddenly going 'off air' or the more serious problem of your website being hacked! We can change that for good! Our website management services will ensure your online real estate i.e. your websites, are fresh with relevant information and continue to function as efficient sales machines. Our service includes the following, - Regular updates of your website content
- Maintenance and updates of the software that keeps your website alive
- Backup of your website and other security precautions.
- Down time prevention strategies
- Email addresses and email forwarding services.
- Development of graphics, content, functionality, and anything else for updating your site.
- Monthly website visit and health reports using detailed, comprehensive, and understandable language.
- Hosting of your website on our fast and reliable servers to ensure 99.9% up time.
- Unlimited consulting service with anything regarding your web site.
- Anything else you need, really! Put web designers, programmers, web marketers, and IT professionals at your service -- without the high cost of hiring full-time web and IT.
