Body Space Vacu Therm Steper is a device designed to closely simulate walking in a manner congruent with natural human motor activity.

It helps to shape the figure perfectly, since it activates much more muscles than other training equipment used in fitness clubs and the workouts are supported with negative pressure „VACU” technology and „InfraRed” radiation.

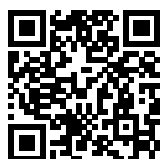

The exercises using the Body Space Vacu Therm Steper device allow you to sculpt muscles of the calves, outer thighs and buttocks. They are also beneficial for the cardiovascular system, overall health and well-being, and what is more they reduce stress and offer relaxation after a hard day.

Smooth operation and exceptional comfort while exercising with Body Space Vacu Therm Steper are ensured by, among others, its robust construction with a powerful flywheel. The electronically controlled resistance is set on a large, easy to read and use, intuitive display. Apart from monitoring standard features such as time, the number of burnt calories and the number of workout repetitions, the computer also checks speed, rev number (cadence), temperature and heart.
