I bought an Eve mattress at the end of February 2016 but I am relocating and need to sell it. It has hardly been used since I've been away for work most of the time and, when I have used it it has been always with a protector so it is as good as new. Eve is a new brand that it is doing very well and the mattress is very good. Details can be found in <https://www.evemattress.co.uk/> The original price is around £600 for a double.;
