Are you a passionate qualified teacher available for 2 hours per week? TalentEd is a charity which brings together bright students and expert teachers in small groups to improve grades and future options. Working as a TalentEd tutor gives you the opportunity to:

- Teach without the pressures of planning lessons, reports and data management.
- Use your experience and qualifications to tackle educational inequality.
- Build a relationship with the same six students over a year and support them to develop the skills and aspirations to realise their potential.
- Earn between £30-40 for a 2 hour session.

See our more detailed job description and application form at www.talent-ed.uk/get-involved/ and give bright students from low income backgrounds the support, skills and aspirations to realise their potential.

TalentEd offers high-ability Year 10 students a year-long programme of weekly small group (1:6) sessions in schools across London. Our qualified teachers and inspirational role models improve GCSE grades and academic and career options. Every young person should have the support, skills and aspirations to realise their potential. Sadly, this is not the case for young people from low income areas in the UK and educational inequality is highest amongst the brightest students.

Our Programme

TalentEd sessions run for two hours after school every week over three terms. Every session starts with a free 10-minute conversation followed by carefully selected interactive tasks and real life problems. Students develop confidence, study skills, aspirations and the ability to make their own choices. A series of tasks including:

- Problem Solving and critical thinking
- Presentation and debating skills
- Writing and interview practice
- Structuring essays
- Revision and exam techniques

TalentEd provides differentiated session plans which allow room for creativity and flexibility. Sessions also include inspiring undergraduate mentors, external speakers and workplace and cultural.
