Background. I bought this car earlier this year as my previous car was unreliable (land rover, enough said really) all I had to do was to get a new turbo fitted which was done and it has driven like a dream ever since, it has taken me back and forth to Liverpool many times and also towed my trailer and trailer tent without any problems or grumbles, so why are you selling her as spares or repair I hear you asking?. well a little over a month ago I had to replace the clutch as it was at its end, the garage that did this also changed the DMF for a solid one instead (Flywheel) fine no problem, however the knuckle dragging grease monkey has wired something up wrong and it now has an electrical fault, this is now causing the car to "Limit" itself and stop the turbo from activating (yes I have checked and the turbo is still fine) it also causes the abs and esp lights to come on which turns off the abs giving you the old fashioned hydraulic brakes (which are very VERY good). apart from that, it still drives lovely but does need tracking. it has a long MOT and is just a bit slower than usual but it is still being used daily without any problems, due to ill health and not being able to work anymore I have to let her (Pandora the Peugeot) go to a new loving home. drive away today. GOOD BITS. new tyres new track rods new turbo new clutch and flywheel new windscreen new MAF new service long mot electric windows remote central locks new radio very economical (Pontypridd to Liverpool and back on just under 1/2 a tank) basically £30 of fuel. new driveshafts and can be a 7 seater Towball with electrics BAD BITS electrical fault as stated above Picasso has signed the floor in the back (see pics of paint on the floor) spare tyre could do with being changed air con needs refilling but does work (the amoeba of a mechanic again) Tracking needs doing badly £30 in any tyre shop Grab a bargain while you can as its advertised elsewhere. needs to be gone by 16th 07479263500 074792635...(click to reveal full phone)
