We were recommended these by a breastfeeding consultant but found them difficult to find in the UK so we bought a lot from the US, hence having lots left over. They really are good for reducing colic or if you are mixed feeding and our little one used to dribble a lot with other bottles but not with these. Included: 2 brand new in original box nurser bottles with teats and 5 drop-in liners. 1 box (100 units) dropin liners in original box. another 250 liners brand new but taken out of packaging, but kept in a sealed bag. 2 used bottles (1 older style), with teats. This would be at least £60, and should last at least 6 weeks depending on how frequently you feed which may see you through the period you need them for.
