Taking over an allotment is a great thing to do but many people don't know where to start when faced with a rough neglected plot and it can be very daunting I've had a few people recently ask me to help them get their new allotment in order so they can begin growing in the spring. Others have had their allotment for a while but due to illness or being too busy, have had to let it go and it's got out of hand. If this sounds like you - why not let me do the hard part so you can have all the fun of growing your own fruit and veg, salad and herbs in the spring? reasonable and negotiable rates and times organic methods and hand tools used where possible ideas and guidance on how to manage the allotment once I've done my bit anywhere in Sussex;
