HHAC Ltd is a professional management consulting company assisting clients from China or UK aiming to set foot in UK or Chinese markets, respectively. The key competitive factors of the business are the staffs language skills and thorough understanding of financial management, accounting, management skills and corporate cultures in both countries, together with strong focus and motivation to succeed in fast developing UK-China trade industry. HHAC Ltd gets an advantage of bypassing the need to hire and train expensive local staff and serve as the bridge between UK and Chinese companies and business environments. In addition to knowledge acquisition, past experience has connected HHAC with a network of contacts potential customers, especially Chinese companies looking to penetrate foreign markets, but lacking local presence and expertise. These contacts, together with trade fairs and Internet based research, should connect HHAC Ltd with plenty of potential
