SOUTH WALES WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHER covering weddings UK-wide with special places in my heart for Somerset, Wiltshire, Hampshire & Dorset but I will cover anywhere in the UK. Specialising in natural and creative photography. My photography has taken me from the South Coast- where I grew up- through the West of England and up to South Wales where I attended University and am currently based. I'm one of those people who is fortunate enough to be utterly in love with their job; I get to capture memories of the happiest day of your life whilst unleashing my creativity and passion at the same time. It really is a great honour to be asked to spend a couples wedding day with them, and to be able to retell their story for years to come. My style on the day is no-fuss and very relaxed. I blend in with the guests to let your day happen as planned. I don't carry big lighting set-ups to weddings and I won't make you and your guests stand around for hours of formal photographs! I will, however, steal you two away for a romantic shoot at some point in the day and I will capture the emotion of your guests throughout. I really adore a wedding, and I adore a super loved up couple even more! What gets me excited is those quirky little details which are individual to each wedding, every couple puts their personal touch on the day and it's an truly special thing to capture. If this sounds like the kind of photographer you're looking for then get in touch!
