Genuine vintage identity bracelet which was bought as a gift for my husband from his parents back in the 70's and is engraved with his name on the identity bar and has 'with love from Mum and Dad' on the reverse, thought these can easily be erased and re-engraved with words of your choice. It is made of solid hallmarked silver with bark patterned links (very popular and typical of the era) and is very chunky and masculine looking. It has a good weight to it and also comes with a spare link to enlarge it if needed. The clasp is very strong and secure with a double safety catch each side. My husband never wore it much back in the day and it's just been sitting in a drawer ever since so would be nice for it to go to a new home where it would be appreciated and used. This would make a lovely and unusual gift especially for someone who loves 70's retro style.:
