----- This has been serviced by a professional mechanic. For those that dont know what a jump bike is, it's a bike with low saddle in design, more or less for BMX riders, who have grown up! Or rather grown too tall... This came in as a trade in, about 6 months ago. It's been spray painted (very badly!) by the previous owner. I remember saying to him, why had he got the bike in such a state. His answer was simple, he had bikes stolen in the past so he purposely made this bike so unattractive to thieves. And I did see his point, if this bike were not spray painted so badly, this would fetch 50 per cent more than my asking price here. Therefore I have just used this bike as a loan bike for when a customer has brought in their bike to me to fix, I have loaned them this jump bike until I fixed the customers own bike. This is not a desperate sale, its only because demand for adults bikes is high at this seasonal period is the only reason why this advert has gone up.

Servicing & Pricing:

Every bike I sell has been serviced by me whereby I go through a checklist of every component on the bicycle to make sure everything is working as it should be.

I believe my selling price is always reasonable. My last pic on the advert shows what a bike shop would charge for just a service (without replacing any parts).
