Would you like a blanket that can teach your baby developmental growth? Look no further. This beautifully hand crafted baby comfort blanket is great for your baby's sensory development and cognitive development. As a nursery nurse. These products are well liked in my baby room. It's great textile skills that babies can explore freely. This encourages babies from an early age to explore different materials such as the ribbon on the sides of the blanket. It also provides the baby a soft cuddly approach during bedtime, using as a comforter from newborn, this blanket can be used until three years old or more if your child likes it. ;
