I have my Volkswagen Polo GTi for sale.

She is a low milage, 2006, 5 door model, with the rare fully heated leather interior selected as a factory option.

I have been a proud owner for three years and have genuinely loved owning her, however, due to extra traveling with a new job, it forces a reluctant sale.

She has a full service history made up of main dealer and specialist workshops. She flew through her last MOT in September, and has 10 months remaining.

As a keen believer that excellent tyres are vital, Yokohama AD08R's have been fitted all around. New front tyres were fitted three months ago at a cost of £202.

As a keen detailer, she has been meticulously cared for, with a hand wash every week and polished every summer.

It made an ideal car for me due to reasonable insurance and fuel consumption and I am confident that she will run for many more miles in a similar fashion.

Any enquiries are welcome, and I am happy to supply additional photos if you would like any inspection
