I'm passionate about music and an experienced Logic Pro user. I have trained at Subbass in London and have been writing my own tracks for about 4 years now. I have also been a dj for more than 20 years and can teach djing on cdj's, 1210's or midi controllers. I would like to teach for free in exchange for free piano or singing lessons, even to a basic level. If this isn't possible I charge very low negotiable rates for lessons. I can help you with Logic 101 and all other aspects of music production, with practical advice to improve your production skills or djing. Based in Holborn or Guildford area or Chichester
