Dear Reader,

I am offering a unique course on Forex trading, I have spent my past 4 years testing and searching for simplicity, precision and effectiveness, one step at the time I arrived at exceptional trading system. I am offering to take on one student at the time, the duration of the training is approx. 4 weeks, the training takes place at my home in East London, in the first days I go through core understanding of my system and setting up your platform, it is followed by one to one trading, Mon.-Fri., 7am.-11am. essential part of the programme. The course is suitable for beginners to advanced traders. Advanced traders will discover a simpler and unique way of reading charts in comparison to the standard trading approach. About my trading: In my trading system I do not ignore standard trading methods but rather showing the true potential of the few traditional tools already available. The price for the course is £2,500. Please do email me if you have any questions. My email: For serious candidates I would recommend to meet with me in person to introduce ourselves and talk through any relevant details.

With Regards Jiri Smid ;
