These started off life as drums in commercial tumble dryers but have been removed and upcycled to be used as extra large garden pots. This one has a ribbed style design around the sides and has a central mesh for drainage at the base. Being stainless steel they will keep their good looks for a long time and will add a wonderful industrial edge to a modern garden scheme. They can be planted up with multiple seasonal plants for a blaze of colour or with just one specimen plant such as a palm, cordyline or phormium. It measures approx 45 cms high and 57 cms.
