Selling my much loved 2012 Sherpa Orbea bike, since I am going to be travelling a lot over the next few years and it won't get used much. It's in great condition, and I used it for commuting for just one year, otherwise it has mostly been parked at home. Here is the bike's factory description: Orbea's Sherpa is ready to carry you on untold adventures with the features you need to conquer the great outdoors. Its light aluminum frame bounds over singletrack with ease while the SR Suntour suspension fork absorbs roots and rocks to keep you in control. You'll also love the Shimano drivetrain with 27 hill-conquering gears and the powerful Shimano hydraulic-disc brakes that stop quick no matter the conditions.:;
