The smaller Lemet units are perfect as a kitchen boiler: the 5 litre model being small enough to be installed under the sink. It is perfect to provide your toilet sink with warm water to wash your hands. The tank is made of enamelled steel and thick PUR foam insulation keeps the water warm for longer. The 1500 watt heating element will heat up the water quicker than the average competitive models making the Lemet water heater much more energy efficient and reducing energy consumption significantly: WARM WATER ON DEMAND. And with the included mounting bracket, power cord (supplied unassembled), a 6 bar safety relief valve it comes as a complete set. It is produced in the EU, Lemet water heaters are CE marked, compliant with UK building regulations as well as ErP compliant.;
