Creative Minds offers private Acting tuition and professional development at all levels. Whether you're a beginner, or a highly experienced actor, to prepare you for an upcoming audition, a new role, your entrance to drama school, or just because you want to!

We will work with you to choose and prepare your audition speeches. We can guide you in cold reading, sight reading, script analysis, and character development, so that you have a clear, structured, methodical approach to your development as an actor. Our coaches have over 10 years experience in the industry, working in Film, TV and Theatre. One-on-one acting technique sessions are available in Central and South London. We look forward to hearing from you!
