Hello...

I would like to show my appreciation for Ben Harrison from the sales team, although I did not purchase my holiday home directly from Ben he has done over and above to help me out with advice and any issue that has occurred. Ben has extensive knowledge within the holiday park and great local knowledge which he shares with me and other owners on a regular basis. I socialise with Ben and the sales team on a regular basis within the complex. In addition my children have formed a very close relationship with him as he always take time out to come and see them and engages in all sorts of activities. Ben is a honest genuine guy that wants everyone to get the most out of the holiday home, holiday park and also the attractions within the local area. Ben loves and lives his role within Park Dene and is committed to the company and owners making him very popular 'the go to guy' onsite. When I decide to upgrade I will be going to Ben for advice.
