When introduced in 1964, the Ferrari 330 GT 2+2 was much improved over its predecessor, the 250 GTE. It had a larger engine, a roomier cockpit, and an improved transmission, overdrive, brakes, and suspension. Performance was also enhanced, with a top speed near 150 mph and a 0 to 60 time of 6.8 seconds- impressive then, and not too shabby.
