Levi's was born inside a shop and separate to the rest of the world. In 1850, Levi Strauss & Co. began innovating with the birth of the first pair of jeans on May 20th, 1873. One day, the wife of a local gold miner asked Jacob Davis, a tailor, to make a pair of Levi's pants for her husband that wouldn't fall apart. Jacob came up with the idea to put metal rivets at points of strain, like pocket corners and the base of the button fly. Davis collaborated with Levi and soon the first riveted clothing was made and sold. The first pair of jeans were made from traditional denim, a popular choice of fabric for men's workwear, and within a very short time the man was a bona fide success.

In 1873, two visionary immigrants turned denim thread and a little metal into what has become the most
