Collins can trace its origins back to the 1940's when it started deploying vehicles to the war effort. It has the rightful claim to being the first company to have a skip vehicle 1968 in Suffolk. Under new ownership since 1994, it has grown dramatically in size and facility increasing vehicle numbers and operational locations to include Suffolk and Essex. Our specialism with asbestos means we cover all of East Anglia. Our influential landfill, treatment and transfer location at head office near Ipswich provides the backbone of operational waste management. This connects with three other operating centres in Bury St Edmunds, Colchester and Leiston allowing network coverage of a wide area of Suffolk and Essex. visit more: www.collins-skiphire.co
