Families often face a difficult decision when someone they care about is struggling with everyday tasks and are no longer able to manage at home without considerable help and support. While a residential home might be the answer for some people, it does not suit everyone and live-in care offers a cost-effective alternative which gives them a choice. Candlelight24 acts as an agency to introduce professional self-employed live-in carers to clients, who move into the home with them to provide the help and support required. We offer this service across many areas of Somerset, Wiltshire, Dorset and E Sussex. This might be long-term, or while someone gets back on their feet after an accident or illness, or to give a family carer some respite. Whatever the reason, having a live-in carer avoids all the distress and disruption of moving away from familiar surroundings and maybe pets as well. For couples where one or both need help, live-in care is particularly cost effective solution.
