Hi, im a mechanic that can fix your car at a much cheaper price than expensive garages. Garage labour prices are always going up the average is £60 P/H. Im just starting off my new business so im willing to do a very generous £35 P/H which is almost half the price! Im only available at certain times so id appreciate if you can text me with what problems you have and then we can arrange a suitable time to fix your car. Also as im only just starting out I don't have a ramp yet, so bare in mind that I will be only taking on certain jobs. But please don't hesitate to text me and il happy to go through it with you in further detail. Also just to add, I can get parts at the same price these expensive garages can so I will be giving you the same.
