Victorian painted pine wardrobe which could be split and converted to cupboard and settle with drawer. There are three parts - base drawer, middle hanging cupboard with shelves, and top pelmet trim. Very sturdy (and middle part is heavy), does not rock or lean and has not been mended or changed apart from damage to front trim where it looks as if an exterior lock may have been installed and is now gone. No worm, no rot. Just two layers of old paint on the original pine. You will need two people to move it when you arrange collection. Finished assembled dimensions (approx): Height 204cm 6' 8" Width 104cm 3' 5" Depth 61cm 2' 0"

Drawer box: H 44cm X W 104cm X D 61cm Middle section: H 152cm X W 103cm X D 59cm Pelmet trim: H 9cm X W 104cm X D 61cm I just bought this but it does not fit in the bedroom (!). Great shabby chic project or take it back to the wood and just wax. It will look!
