Letterpress printing is a century-old method which requires a good amount of manual effort. Text and graphics are created onto a metal block with sufficient differences in height to produce clean prints. When producing letterpress business cards or letterpress invitation cards, every colour will have to be printed individually. Viprint is a leader in bespoke printing techniques with products such as letterpress invitation cards. Based in Buckingham, Viprint has a design team to assist with letterpress cards for every occasion. Know more information on <http://www.viprint.co/>.
