For the ultimate in picture quality, the SONY KD49XD8099BU pairs the brilliance of 4K clarity with the brightness, colour and detail of High Dynamic Range (HDR). Previously hidden areas of dark shadow and sunlight are now full of clarity and detail. Images are sharpened and refined using 4K X-Reality PRO picture processing which upscales and enhances every pixel for remarkable clarity.

With Sony television, everything you watch is sharpened and filled with the finest detail enhancement and reduction of flicker for amazingly realistic pictures. The 4K1 processing in the TV uses a real time image processing database that uses reducing the picture upscales. These features combine to provide a colourful, picture.

Unique to Sony, a TRILUMINOS Display enriches your viewing experience with a wider palette of colour and more natural shades and hues.

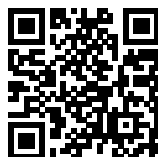

A TRILUMINOS Display excels at reproducing reds, greens and blues – colours that are notoriously difficult for TVs to display accurately. It also displays skin tones beautifully, thanks to its extensive colour palette and precise gradation. Colours are selected from a wider colour palette to ensure subtle shades
