Do you know someone in need of homecare?

After working in care her whole life Yolande has decided to branch out on her own and give the quality of care that people deserve.

Yolande is offering anything from companionship or a few shopping trips to domestic cleaning and personal care such as administering medications and other more serious duties. She has had a life long career in care and recently passed her Level 3 Health and Social Care NVQ with flying colours.

If you want someone who will genuinely care and bring comfort and help to somebody you love, I would recommend her every day of the week.
