Hello everyone,

As I am leaving London mid-July, I am selling my Peugeot motorbike. It has been extremely useful in London's busy and small streets. With its 125cc motor you will be able to go to every kind of road, even taking a step in the countryside at times.

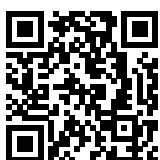

It is well-equipped, with a big top-case for more room (although the underseat space is already very big, allowing two helmets), a rain apron protection, and a chain to avoid theft.

Its service is up to date and regular checks have been done every month or so. It has always been stored in protected space, nights and days, except for the last couple of weeks. It works as well as the first day ! And it still looks like it's new.

Do not hesitate to make an offer.

To conclude here is one corporate description I found is really relevant : "Aimed at urban riders who want the comfort of a GT executive scooter with the compact dimensions and quick handling of a smaller machine, the Citystar has a generous dual seat and plenty of legroom, as well as a lockable compartment under the seat big enough to accommodate two helmets and a handy glove box containing a 12V socket for charging devices while on the move."

Thank,
