I have two blue parrotlets, approximately 2 years old, have previously bred and still have one of the offspring, however due to needing room for a friend for my cockatiel I must put them up for sale. Must be to a good home, knowledge would be preferable on the breed, and will not be separated. have been hand tame previously but could use a little time spent with them to get back to that stage as a jealous little cockatiel tends to take most of my attention now. Any questions
