dates and finish balances. after every item within the Checks and Payments column is checked off, all-time low right corner should read zero.

Writing a Check without getting into a Bill

When a bill arrives, some business owners simply use the Write Check feature to pay the bill. the first step once a new bill arrives should be to enter the bill in the Enter Bills window. This creates an accounts due . Then, move to Pay Bills and indicate the bill you wish to pay. This takes care of the accounts due for that vendor and allows you to use QuickBooks to properly manage your cash flow and set up for future expenses.

Using the Write Checks Window to Pay Payroll Taxes

As payroll is processed, QuickBooks® reporting software keeps track of how much payroll tax the business owes and records that amount within the Payroll Liabilities window. However, if payrolls taxes are paid within the Write Checks window, the amount paid will not be properly subtracted from the Payroll Liabilities window. Paying these payroll taxes directly in the Pay Liability window can make the correct deductions and keep the books straight.
