I am currently doing my training in children's nursing and work in Chelsea hospital as a children's nurse. I'm back in the Brighton area for weekends and I'm thinking of offering a babysitting service, which would extend to weekday childcare after 31st July. I am fully first aid trained and have worked with all ages from very small babies to teenagers. I have worked in two nurseries as well as my current jobs in London as a support worker for complex needs children and as a children's nurse and I have a full DBS. I am very happy to do full days or evenings and take children out, cook dinners or whatever you need! I am happy to discuss!
