Are you ready to try something different?

Kamon Wing Chun Kung Fu is a unique fighting system, designed to build skills in people who do not think they have them. If you think you are too old or too weak to do martial arts, you are definitely not.

The system is designed to use a persons size and strength against them and maximise your striking power using clever techniques.

We are offering new students a free trial class - pop in and try a class.

If you like it, it's just £6 a week after that. You only pay when you train.

This £6 covers you for any classes you attend during the week.
