I have a 10 month old Rottweiler bitch for sale she is house trained and brill around kids as we have 4 age between 1 and 15, due for sale is we just don't have the time due to work commitments so she in house around 10 hrs a day alone. Since started new jobs she started biting wood in kitchen like door frames but think that's down to be alone a long time while we are out. She will make a beautiful dog for someone who could walk her twice a day and spend time with her, she bit giddy but that's due to us coming in with her been on her own. We will miss her but just think it's right for her to go with someone got time for.
