Asia on Pace to Become the Largest VR&AR Market by 2020

Digi-Capital forecasts that by 2020 global VR&AR market size will rocket to USD 150 billion, of which AR market will account for USD 90 billion. Asia will generate at less half of global VR&AR sales, especially China where consumer acceptance for VR&AR is generally higher.

Review of VR&AR Fair 2017

First held in 2017, VR&AR is a professional and efficient business platform to bridge worldwide buyers and suppliers, as well as to enhance communication between manufacturers and ordinary consumers.

On a show floor of 20,000 sq.m, over 100 acclaimed exhibitors at home and abroad such as VRway, Hirain, Leke VR, Shenlinqijing, Foldspace, NineD, TPcast, Huan Tek, Xiechuang, EFERCRO, Movie Power, etc, showcased their latest offerings to visitors of over 30 countries and regions. While VR&AR entertainment equipment dominated the show, VR&AR based education were the second best represented sector.
