I am a professional CV writer, and have been for over 15 years, I am also a Career Consultant for over 20 years, with a career background steeped in HR and front-line global recruitment. I am a member of Association for Coaching, CIPD certified and a member of NCTL.

It has becoming increasingly popular to use CV writers these days, and more and more of those who profess to do so are emerging day by day. As you know, some are expensive, while others are offering you similar services for around £20-30.00, the latter should raise some caution.

You can review my profile and testimony here <http://bit.ly/2fzuXcL>

Here's what you really want to know!

I will offer first, a free review of your career media, whatever it is, I will offer constructive feedback. If you agree with my professional assessment, we can move to setting up a free 30-minute consultation. This can be done by phone, Skype or if you prefer, I can email you what I need and you can reply accordingly.

The next stage is building you a file that captures the target readers' imagination (not your imagination) and meets their mental must haves; alongside the critical Job description's roles and responsibilities and person specifications.

So, what is the deal I hear you say?

Well for all files, no matter what level you are in your career, or what role you are delivering, the CV development is just £52.00. Now if you need a cover letter or LinkedIn profile development, it will be £64.00, for all three it will be £73.00, now I have charged significantly more in the past, but this is a brand-new venture and I am testing the waters and I want to gain your trust.

Turnaround times - for the CV is 5-7 days, if you want a cover letter, LinkedIn profile or personal statement, add an additional 3 days, but generally, I normally deliver the 1st draft file within these turnaround formats, such as PDF, choose to come to board, Skype or those which you prefer, is the offer in my own coaching; I will be glad to get you to the point, but I will be flunk to interview? If you need this support, please just ask, and I will discuss the process.

As a professional, I do review my competitors, however, I can assure you, you will not be making a poor decision in choosing to assign me to develop your.
