Hi.My name is Erica and I am originally from the north of Italy where I taught English to Italians and Italian to foreign people for 10 years.I have recently moved to the UK and am available to teach anyone who has an interest in learning Italian and would like conversations with a native Italian regarding all things Italian. So whether your interest is learning the language or learning about Italy due to an interest in the country or a planned trip then please get in touch.
 I have a bachelors degree in languages and economics plus I also speak Chinese at an intermediate level.I can offer lessons via skype or am available to meet in the centre of Brighton or further(subject to an extra charge).My fees are £16 per hour via skype or £19 per hour face to face.If there are more than one of you then I can reduce the price per person.
We can chat by phone,skype or can meet in the first instance for free to discuss proceeding with lessons etc.
 I am a happy,warm and focused individual and look forward to hearing from you.
