We have been established since 2008 and have recently came back after a break. We are a friendly bunch of ladies who, before our Forum break, made lifelong friends and we are all back now and waiting for more Mummies to join us and more lifelong friendships to form, Wether you just want a quick natter or important advice from other like minded Mummies then northwestmums.forumotion.com is the place for you. It takes seconds to sign up so what are you waiting for?

We will have photo competitions, Mummy drink nights, days out, book clubs and more! Come and join in!!
