¡Hola!

My name's Natasha and I'm an experienced and highly qualified Spanish tutor offering online tuition via Skype. I grew up in the UK but I now live in Spain. I've always had a love for languages and Spanish in particular which led to me studying it at secondary school and then at university. There was something about Spain and all things Spanish that caught my imagination and my dream was to become fluent in Spanish. I did everything I could to achieve my goal – studying, reading books and newspapers, watching films, listening to podcasts and the radio, doing language exchanges with Spaniards, taking extra conversation classes and even studying in Spain and living with Spanish families. All that hard work paid off and I graduated from Exeter University with a first class degree in Spanish with distinction in spoken Spanish and a commendation from the Dean for outstanding academic achievement.

I've lived in Granada, Spain, for the last 10 years so I use Spanish on a daily basis and am fully immersed in both the language and the culture. Moreover, being English I can explain complex ideas in English and translate words and phrases or explain the meaning when there is no direct translation. Having studied languages myself I know exactly how it feels to learn Spanish which means not only can I sympathise with my pupils but also offer practical help and advice from my own experience. I'm a highly motivated, passionate and patient teacher and I really care about my students and their progress.

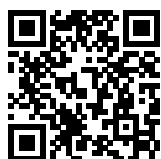

I offer one-to-one tuition on Skype providing help with homework, conversation and exam practice. Classes are £20/hour and paid via Paypal so it's safe and convenient. I offer a free 15 minute consultation so we can discuss what kind of tuition you're looking for and you can talk to me before committing to any classes.

If you're interested in having Spanish tuition with me then get in touch! Tell me a little bit about what kind of classes you're looking for, your preferred timetable and how many hours you want to study per week. I can answer any questions you may have.
