Web Design & Digital Marketing for New Entrepreneurs and Small Business Owners

Hello and thank you for checking my ad.

My name is Michael; I'm a web designer & digital marketer who recently started freelancing. That's why I offer premium web design and digital marketing services at low cost so that I can build a freelancer portfolio.

My overall aim is to deliver a website or service that will quickly pay for itself with new clients and more sales.

Working with me you get:

- Professionally looking website that represents your business the way you want,
- Effective presentation of the core messages of your service/product,
- Modern design that will look great both on smartphone and computers,
- An online platform that will serve your business through next decade or more...

I know very well that having the website of your company designed is a major step for any business. I respect that, and I take pride in having an original approach to all of my work.

Each project includes:

- Creative & exciting design (based in London or online)
- Help with domain registration and hosting
- Fully mobile website to boost your business
- Unlimited revisions and tweaks

Costs will vary with project features. Typically, however, I offer two packages depending on business size and budget. STARTER Package costs start from £50 and BUSINESS Package from 800. To see a more detailed description of my services, I recommend visiting my website, just search for 'michael' in google.
