Bough for my husband for Christmas and he tried it for a day. He liked what it did but didn't like the style - he wanted one that looked like a normal wrist watch so bought him an alternative.

With an amazing 1-year battery life, it lets you track activity 24/7 so that you never need to charge it or turn it off.

The red move bar reminds you when you need to get moving, while allowing you to view vital stats such as steps and calories burned on the easy-to-read, high resolution display.

Used with Garmin Move IQ, the Vivofit 3 captures all kinds of activities including walking, running, biking and swimming. You can track your progress, join challenges and compete against others via the Garmin Connect mobile app or on desktop - perfect for anyone with a competitive streak!
